++ Valid for broadcast between 1800 and 0600

Headline:
Mild but unsettled this week, with long periods of rain.

This Evening and Tonight:
Any evening showers fading, with light winds leading to a chilly and clear night. Cloud then thickening from the west during the early hours, with winds also strengthening. Light rain reaching most parts by dawn with fog over the hills. Minimum temperature 4 deg C (39 deg F).

Tuesday:
Rather cloudy and damp with strong winds. Cloud may thin a little further east, with the odd bright spell possible. Feeling mild.  Widespread fog and drizzle across the Pennines. Maximum temperature 16 deg C (61 deg F).

Outlook for Wednesday to Friday:
Mild, windy, and cloudy throughout. Long periods of rain, heavy at times, especially across western hills. The best of the drier weather and any brighter spells in the east.
